> Cana. BY JAMES FREEMAN CLARKE.

Dear Friend! whose presence in the house, Whose gracious word benign, Could once, at Cana's wedding feast,

Change water into wine : Come, visit us ! and when dull work Grows weary, line on line,

Revive our souls, and let us see Life's water turned to wine. Gay mirth shall deepen into joy, Earth's hopes grow half divine,

When Jesus visits us, to make Life's water glow as wine. The social talk, the evening fire, The homely household shrine,

Grow bright with angel visits, when The Lord pours out the wine.

For when self-seeking, turns to love,

Not knowing mine nor thine,

The miracle again is wrought,

And water turned to wine.

Form of invitation to the Paragraphers' Association: "Do you solemnly premise to print the name of your brother members as often as

Into every married man's mind there sooner or later enters the conviction that he cannot dress his wife in plain clothes and keep the current of her affection for him flowing at a Spring-freshet

" You didn't laugh at my stupidity before we were married : you always said I was a duck of a lover," grumbled a complaining husband. "Yes, that's so," replied the wife, "and a duck of a lover is almost sure to make a goose of a hus-

An Atlanta man walked around all day recently with a grasshopper in his ear. When his wife discovered it, he said he had been hearing peculiar noises all day, but thought a new steam sawmill had begun operation somewhere in the

This note from a Chicago girl to her lover was made public though a lawsuit:-"Dear Samie: Pap's water-millions is ripe. Come and ring some more poetry like you brought afore. My love for you will ever flow like running down

"Is there any opening here for an intellectual writer!" said a very red-faced youth, with the cork of a Bottle sticking out of his breast pocket. The editor, with much dignity, took the man's intellect in, and said-" An opening? Yes, sir; a kind and considerate carpenter, foreseeing your visit, left an opening for you. Turn the knob to the right."

She said she didn't used to believe in second marriages, but two or three years of windowhood had convinced her that she could trot over life's race-course best in double harness. An expression of surprise and inderedulity stole over the face of her companion, and so she added, by way of explanation, "Well, you see, I was always the head hoss in the team."

A St. Paul mother recently took her fifteenyear-old daughter to a party as a special favour -not that she intended that the child should "come out" for some time yet. That parent was rather astonished to find that the "little girl' knew nearly every society man about town, understood the figures of the "German," and could talk like a magpie.

For the English royal mince pie the ingredients are mixed for a month before wanted, and are as follows:-240 pounds of raisins, 400 pounds of currants, 200 pounds of lump sugar, 3 pounds of cinnamon, 3 pounds of nutmeg, 3 pounds of cloves, 3 pounds of ground allspice, 2 pounds of ginger, 300 pounds of beef, 350 pounds of suet, 24 bushels of apples, 240 lemons, 20 pounds of cedra, 72 bottles of brandy, 3 pounds of mace, 60 pounds of lemon peel, and 60 pounds of orange

PERILS OF PANTALOONS .- One night last week a Mrs. Dr. Dora Emens, M. D., physician and surgeon, lectured in Syracuse "to women only," and when she was about half through the shrill alarm was given, "Man in the room!" and Mrs. Dr. Mary Walker, M. D., was clutched by the indignant females and bounced out of the rooms, and down stairs, with her hat jammed down over her eyes, and her claw-hammer coat ripped from collar to bustle. The Doctor picked herself up and called a back, and as she climbed in she was heard to remark, " Another victim to circumstantial evidence."-Burlington Hawk-

A coloured man living in Fort street, Detroit, has a sign on his house reading, "Meals for eight cents." The sign attracted the attention of a hungry man of colour the other day, and he stepped in and said he would have a dinner. A slice of bread and a bowl of water was placed on the table, and he was told to draw up. "What sort of a meal is dat?" he demanded, drawing away instead of drawing up. "Dat's an eight cent meal, my friend." "I isn't prepared to squar off in front of no sich dinner," growled the stranger, getting out of doors. "It isn't no festival dat's true," replied the proprietor, "but when de price am limited down to eight cents you must spee' de food to be limited flown to about two courses. Dar's bread, and dar's water, an' if yer want to make it ten cents, I'll put on de pepper-box and a knife and fork !"

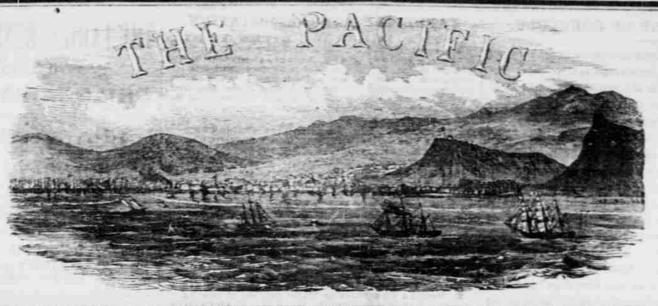

SAMANTHY'S ELOPEMENT .- "Yes," said the old lady, as she wiped her eyes and proceeded to tell the sympathizing neighbor about the elopement of her daughter; "yes, Mrs. Blobbs, you may well say it ar' a dreadful stroke. I aint had such another shock sence that last spell o' rheumatiz. To think that a darter of mine would do such a disgraceful thing after all the care and affection me an' her father have ravished on her from her infancy up. I couldn't bear up under the affliction nohow but for the conserlation of religion. Religion is powerful enervat-ing in such trials as these." "Did you not suspicion that they were contemplating such a move?" asked the neighbor. "No; we never suspicioned nary contemplation After I'd runned the conceited upstart off the premises with the mop, I didn't think he'd have the insurance to speak to Samanthy agin. An' she seemed to appear so consigned that I never respected her of having any underhanded contentions. But all the same—so I've heerd sence—they used to meet clandestinely, when I thought Samanthy was at meeting, an' decoct their plans to run off an' elope. Well, Samanthy has made her bed, an' she'll have to lay on it. I wash my hands of the ongrateful girl from this time forthwith." " Did you make any effort to intercept them ?" " No ; you see, we didn't know it, or else we'd 'a intercepted 'm within an inch o' their lives."

"I mean, did you try to have them stopped when you found they were gone?"
"Yes, indeed. Father telescoped to five or six towns, and give the prescription—cost him lots of money, too; but he said he would't mind spending the price of a cow to git Samanthy back. But we never heerd nothing from them, and I told father to let'em alone, and they'd come home after a while with five or six children behind them. But I tell you, Mrs. Blobbs, they shan't set a foot in this house except over the dead body of my defunct corpse. You just remember that."

THE HAWAIIAN ISLANDS ARE noted the world over for their unrivaled salubrity of climate. Certain localities in the group are especially favored in this way.—The District of Kons, on the locward side of Hawaii, has long been famed as a place of resort for invalids with bronchital, or long disease: With its pure and mild atmosphere, with its absolute freedom from storms or high winds, with its porous soil which, with all its rich vegetation, retains no dampooss and rields no malaria, and with an unvarying temperature—that of the American or Southern European June—ALL THE YEAR ROUND, the climate of Rona is one of the healthiest and most luxurious on
